Title IX

Title IX of the Education Amendments Act of 1972 prohibits sex discrimination in educational programs and activities. Virginia Law also prohibits gender discrimination and sexual harassment.

Complaints under Title IX at ODU

Students: If you believe a student has been subjected to (1) sexual harassment (including sexual assault, sexual violence or other forms of sexual misconduct) by University faculty, staff, or a student; or (2) any other form of gender discrimination under Title IX, share information about available resources and inform the student about his or her right to file a complaint with the Office of Institutional Equity and Diversity. The entire complaint procedure and complaint form can be found at www.odu.edu/equity

Employees: Sexual harassment, including sexual assault and violence, is a form of gender discrimination prohibited by Title IX. A University employee who believes they have been subjected to discrimination or harassment in the workplace because of gender may file a complaint with the Office of Institutional Equity and Diversity. The entire complaint form can be found at odu.edu/equity/complaints

Federal and state laws as well as University policy prohibit retaliation against anyone who

Women’s and Gender Equity Center

The Office of Women and Gender Equity Center LGBTQIA+ Initiatives is the primary resource on campus for LGBTQIA+ identities through education, on-campus engagement and advocacy. The LGBTQIA+ Initiatives strives to reduce homophobia, transphobia, and heterosexism among the Old Dominion University community in order to provide an affirming environment through which all Monarchs can thrive. Safe Space Committee, an educational arm of the LGBTQIA+ Initiatives, facilitates ally certification trainings to assist in creating a more affirming campus.

For more information on trainings and programs or to refer students of queer experience contact the Women’s and Gender Equity Center at wgec@odu.edu.

FERPA

The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) guarantees students certain rights with respect to their education records. These rights include:

Consent to disclosure of personally identifiable information contained in the student’s education records, except to the extent that FERPA authorizes disclosure without consent.

For more information, visit <https://bit.ly/3B81XWj>, or contact the University Registrar at 757-683-4425.

Threat Assessment

Threat Education Assessment & Management Team

The Threat Education Assessment & Management Team (TEAM) is a cross-functional, multidisciplinary group committed to identifying, evaluating and managing the risks associated with certain behaviors that may pose a threat to the campus community’s safety.
